CONDITION OF ROADS
AT KOOLAUPOKO WILL BE PROBED BY CHAMBER

The members of the Chamber of Commerce committee on municipal affairs today are giving considerable thought as to just what will be the best way in which to investigate the condition of roads in the Koolaupoko district. That the committee will make this investigation, and wait no longer for action by the board of supervisors, was decided upon at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

The poor condition of the thoroughfares on Windward Oahu first was called to the attention of the committee by a letter from F. M. Swamy and, since its receipt, many complaints have reached the committee on the same matter. Although the supervisors made small appropriations for the betterment of the roads, the complaints show, it is said, that the funds were either inadequate or were not used. The committee on municipal affairs is composed of J.
G. Smith, H. F. Wichman, W. E.
Brown and C. G. Bartlett.

Charles Bhuler, 35 years old, of Riv-

ERNEST KAAI BACK FROM COAST TRIP

Buoyant and smiling as always, Ernest Kaai, Hawaii's master of Hawaii's songs, came happily down the gangplank of the Matsonia yesterday, glad to reach Honolulu again after several weeks on the Coast.

During his trip there Kaai visited from Vancouver to San Diego, extolling the beauties of Hawaii's melodies, and demonstrating and selling Hawaii's own musical instrument, the ukulele.

He gave three recitals at the Southern California Music Store in Los Angeles, and the native airs as played on the native instrument, together with Kaai's fine vocal work, attracted thousands to the store.

Kaai tried to get a theatrical concession at San Francisco for the exposition, but found that all concessions had been arranged for in that line.
However, he will have the opportunity of furnishing talent in the way of hula girls and Hawaiian musicians to those who got such concessions.

While in both the northern and southern cities Kaai reports that he met quite a number of native musicians who are filling engagements with circuses, and playing in cafes, etc. They all were glad to meet a "friend from their home town" and told him that, while they were all doing pretty well at their work, they missed Hawaii and wished sometimes they were back in the islands.

Kaai will immediately resume his work of teaching pupils how to play the ukulele at his studio in the Young Hotel.—Adv.

MELLE GAUTHIER WILL ASSIST HAROLD BAUER IN NEXT CONCERT

Melle Gauthier, operatic soprano, who will assist Harold Bauer in his concert next Monday evening is a finished vocalist who is particularly charming in the dainty little French chansons. Her voice is a clear soprano of sweet timber, which she uses most artistically.

Her production is easy and even throughout, the tone being marked with clear bird-like quality that so many singers lack. Her enunciation is beautifully distinct. Her voice is trained to an exquisite degree of perfection in the best Italian school.

Melle Gauthier assisted Mischa Elman, the famous violinist, in his Australian tour.

CENTRAL UNION WILL ENTERTAIN STRANGERS

An informal reception will be tendered to newcomers in Honolulu by the Women's Society of Central Union church tomorrow from three to five o'clock. All women of the church with their friends and any strangers in town, are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, with the assistance of Mesdames G. S.
Curry, C. B. Andrews, J. S. B. Pratt, and J. P. Erdman, is planning for a most attractive afternoon with a real social spirit, an interesting musical and literary program and delicious refreshments.

Miss Genevieve Young will render some piano selections; L. G. French, baritone, will be heard for the first time; F. E. Midkiff, of Punahou Academy, will read, and Miss Elizabeth Jones of Mills School will sing.

EDWARD K. BULL, WITH SISTER, MAROONED AT SEAT OF HOSTILITIES

Startling experiences, coupled with thrilling adventures, fell to the lot of Edward K. Bull, manager of the Oahu sugar plantation, and his sister, who were in Austria at the time of the declaration of war which has resulted in the present European embroiglo, according to tales related by them yesterday following their return to Honolulu in the steamer Matsonia.

Mr. Bull and his sister experienced their first "adventure" when they found themselves unable to cash drafts or money orders, and were forced to resort to other means to secure the necessary funds to take them safely out of the warring countries. They raised the money, however, Mr. Bull says, and, by slow stages, finally got to Norway, which journey covered a period of more than a week. Mr. Bull would talk little of the war, saying that he was not there long enough to learn anything about it. Mr. Bull left Honolulu May 6, sailing direct for Europe. He visited Austria, Norway, Germany and Sweden.
